Discussion continued regarding the relief funds, importance of not piecemealing the asks, researching guidelines, the collective approach of the letter and referring to other art organizations, and research on how people are accessing funds to fill gaps in their budget.

Strategic Plan Implementation 2022 and Beyond (Leslie Peters)

Following break, Leslie explained the process for the strategic plan priorities small group breakout sessions - Strengthen Key Organizational Infrastructure, Grow & Develop Capacity of Artists & Arts Organizations, Advance Education of Young People in and through the Arts, and Increase Equity in the Arts through Leadership and Collaboration - based on the following three questions:

1. What does the (strategic plan priority) look like in our current environment and what it will look like in five years?
2. What is the opportunity fit in DEI work through these efforts?
3. What is important about facility/space to support the priorities?

She asked Vanessa to comment on why this activity would be important to the groups.

Vanessa: Will begin process with KEB to establish goals and work on 2022 budget for approval at December meeting; this session will provide direction and guidance toward that effort.

Group One addressed the following strategic plan priorities: Strengthen Key Organizational Infrastructure and, Grow & Develop Capacity of Artists & Arts Organizations.

Group Two addressed the following strategic plan priorities: Advance Education of Young People in and through the Arts and, Increase Equity in the Arts through Leadership and Collaboration.

Leslie asked each group to report out their deliberations. Following group presentations, she noted that great work had been done and that this will help “bucket” information for staff. She added that she would combine/harvest all presentation notes from the group activity into a priority guidance for staff to utilize when looking at staffing, governance, work plans, sequencing, budgets and overall feedback.

Leslie asked each participant for closing thoughts.

Mont thanked everyone for their participation; reminded about the Fall Town Hall in October.
